ABOUT ME

I hold a Bachelor’s degree in Management with a specialization in Banking, Finance, and Insurance, as well as a Master’s degree in Financial Institutions Management. I have a strong academic background combining both theoretical knowledge and practical understanding in finance and accounting.

I have a good command of Microsoft Office tools and familiarity with various accounting software. Additionally, I am continuously developing my technical skills through self-learning, particularly in Python using Visual Studio Code, to enhance my data analysis and processing capabilities.

Versatile and adaptable, I bring together skills in accounting and financial analysis, along with a strong willingness to learn and grow in diverse professional environments. My objective is to evolve in multidisciplinary settings in order to build solid expertise and strengthen my professional career.

I value a work environment that promotes rigor, teamwork, and a positive atmosphere, while maintaining confidentiality, organization, and well-structured processes. I am naturally calm, adaptable, and responsible, with strong organizational and planning skills, and a high level of motivation for teamwork.
